Auto Mishap Ends Life Of Soldier

SAN BRUNO — One soldier was killed and another injured Sunday night in San Bruno when they were struck by a car on El Camino Real as they walked along the highway toward their camp at Tanforan.

Dead is Pvt. Adolphus W. Kindberg, 39, in the U. S. Army Air Corps. His mother, Mrs. Nettie Kindberg of San Fernando was being notified today. Pvt. Leo Mendyk, 44, sustained minor injuries, and today was in an infirmary at Tanforan.

The two pedestrians were struck by an automobile driven by George S. Luddy, 124 Primrose Rd., Burlingame, going north on El Camino Real, police said. The two soldiers were walking north, Luddy told police, on the right side of the road, and when he saw them he was unable to avoid striking them.

Kindberg was thrown approximately 20 feet to the side of the road, police estimated, and died en route to a hospital a few minutes later. The accident occurred about ½ mile south of Camp Tanforan near Euclid Ave. on El Camino Real, at 11:50 p.m.

Luddy, a printer for the San Carlos Inquirer, was questioned and released, police said.

Wayne Escaped, Says Official

Raymond G. Wayne, 20, Redwood City robber returned to the county jail here by Preston School of Industry as an incorrigible, escaped from the state school Sept. 30 and was not apprehended until Dec. 30 in San Francisco when he was charged with burglary, it was disclosed in a letter from Parole Officer J. M. Toner to Dep. Dist. Atty. Burress Karmel.

Toner reported that Wayne and Steve Murphy, young San Francisco gunmen who held up the Forty Nine Club in Redwood City Mar. 19, 1942, arrived at Preston Jan. 24. Wayne was belligerent from the start, Toner reported, and escaped Sept. 30.

O. H. Close, Preston superintendent, told Toner there was nothing more the state school could do for Wayne and recommended he be returned to San Mateo County.

San Francisco Police Chief Charles Dullea told Karmel that Wayne was arrested while trying to sell a $65 ring stolen from the Antoinette Jewel Shop, 103 Geary St., San Francisco, and had in his possession a forged draft card.

Committee Seeks Driving Cut

"It is our opinion that transportation is going on about as it was before the war," Ferris W. Miles, chairman of the Redwood City Vital War Transportation Committee, declared today following a meeting of the committee.

"We must find ways and means of reducing it due to the critical rubber shortage," he said.

The transportation group requested automobile drivers to use less than the full ration book of gasoline coupons.

A meeting has been called for next Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the city hall, at which time members of the rationing board have been asked to be present to discuss transportation problems.

Miles commended officials of Sequoia High School and of the Redwood City Emergency School Dist. for their co-operation in curtailment in the use of school busses. The schools have shortened their runs and have been encouraging students who live less than two miles from school to walk, A. C. Argo, Sequoia superintendent, and Andrew Spinas, elementary school superintendent, informed the transportation committee.

Fifty cities in the United States have their own municipal banners.

Cubs Report Good Stamp Sale

Their first war stamp drive, conducted Friday evening at McKinley School, was today reported by Cub Scout pack 16 as an unqualified success, with 200 stamps on hand sold out long before the audience was seated and plans being made for future similar projects.

The drive took the form of a program, with the purchase of war stamps as the price of admission. Taking part in the performance were members of the McKinley School square dancing class, directed by Mrs. Ruth Lepley; Boy Scouts of troop 160, who demonstrated field equipment and introduced a Boy Scout who had been at Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack, and a group of dancers directed by Dorothy Roberts.

Following the entertainment the guests inspected handicraft specimens made by the Cub Scouts.

Bullock Enters Fraser Case

Joseph J. Bullock, Redwood City attorney, has joined Atty. Mervin Lewis of San Francisco in prosecution of the divorce action which John D. Fraser Jr. has filed in superior court here.

Showgirl June Fraser of San Francisco also brought up reinforcements. Atty. Elmer Delaney accompanied her to court this morning. Her legal staff includes Roy Sharff and J. W. Ehrlich, but Ehrlich has stated that he will withdraw.

Fraser, scion of a well to do Menlo Park family, was accompanied by his mother, both in court on a defense subpena.

All matters in the case were continued a week on request of Bullock who requested the additional time to familiarize himself with it. Pending before Judge Maxwell McNutt are a series of demurrers, motions to strike, and motions for fees for June Fraser's attorneys.

Stanford Gives Accident Course

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — Forty-three army men from 11 western states are now in San Francisco attending a concentrated course on industrial accident prevention being offered by Stanford, the university's War Training Office announced today. The classes are conducted by safety engineers from Bay Area war plants and curriculum includes field trips to the plants.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE: Baume Heads R.C. Bomb Squad

Mayor Floyd D. Granger has appointed Clement R. Baume, U. S. Navy retired, as chief bomb reconnaissance agent of the Redwood City Defense Council. He succeeds Sgt. S. E. Douglass, who resigned because his police duties during an actual air raid would prevent him from directing the activities of the bomb reconnaissance work.

Baume, a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, took training last month at the bomb reconnaissance school at Burlingame. He took a basic civilian defense course at the Stanford War Department Civilian Protection School last Summer and has given instruction in civilian defense work in Redwood City. He is a member of the control center staff.

Baume plans to call a bomb reconnaissance squad organization meeting soon.

Forming nucleus of the squad are Mark E. Ryan, fire chief; Douglass, J. A. Snider, Robert West, C. H. Genochio and E. G. Fogarty, police department; E. Kooklin; J. C. Doolittle and Walter Reineke, auxiliary policemen; William Price of S. H. Frank Co.; John R. Cowan and Louis W. Keyser, Johns-Manville Co.; James Colton, Harry Stephens and Eldred Bollinger, Pacific Portland Cement Co.; L. Fleisher, George Corsi and Robert McGrahahan, National Motor Bearing Co., and Emmett Donnelly and Wilbur Jeffress, U. S. post office.

All those on the squad have had bomb reconnaissance training.

Belmont Discusses Fire Protection

BELMONT — Fire protection for the Laurel Canyon area provided the chief item for discussion at this week's meeting of the Belmont Fire Commission, Fire Chief Roussel Smith said today.

At present the district receives its protection from the Belmont Fire Dist. under terms of a contract with the city, but the contract will be terminated within a few months.

Laurel Canyon was believed for many years to be outside the city limits, perhaps because of a surveying mistake, and received protection from the county, Smith said. When the fire and water districts collaborated on having a map made last year, however, the canyon, where about a score of families make their homes, was found to lie within the city limits, but outside the fire district. The present contract, involving the transfer of a small sum of money, resulted.

In case of a serious fire in Laurel Canyon, all homes would doubtless be wiped out, Smith said, as the canyon has a "serious fire hazard" in the form of prevailing winds. If the area were to be voted into the district, he added, better protection could be provided by the fire department than is now possible under the contract.

Incorporation of the area within the fire district, which the commission hopes can be accomplished by the time the contract ends, presents some difficulties, however, Smith indicated. According to law, owners of property representing 51 per cent of the assessed valuation of the area must petition the county for the change, and since much of the property in the area is unimproved, Smith expressed doubt that owners would be interested in the improved protection, with its increased expense. The commission plans, however, to contact the residents of Laurel Canyon on the subject, he added.

Our 2000th is a Woman

SINCE PEARL HARBOR more than two thousand proud "good-byes" have been said to employees of this Company entering the military services.

Early this month it was "good-bye and good luck" to Miss Violet Hooe of the Service Department in Oakland. When Miss Hooe enlisted in the SPARS—United States Coast Guard—she became the two thousandth employee to join up.

In July, 1942, William J. Hickey, steam plant engineer, changed to Navy blue as Boatswain's Mate—Second Class. At that time he was the thousandth employee who had gone to war.

Two thousand young men and women means at least one out of every six of this company's employees are now on war duty. Two thousand means an average of one hundred and fifty employees each month have gone "on assignment" to the most important job in the world today.

Good-bye and good luck. When the job of beating the Axis is finished—come back to us. Your service record, your job seniority and your interests in the company's old-age retirement plan will be preserved intact and waiting for you. That is the farewell pledge of your company.

84 YEARS OF SERVICE TO HOMES AND INDUSTRY

Johns-Manville Journal

JM PRODUCTS

That They Shall Not Die In Vain

SOME 3,000 former Johns-Manville workers are now in the armed forces.

Already, two of these boys have been killed. Many have been captured or reported missing in action.

Others are bound to be killed before the war is over.

There isn't a worker at J-M who wouldn't work night and day . . . until he dropped . . . to prevent the death of one of these boys.

There is no question of the loyalty of home front workers. The trouble is, many home front workers don't think of their jobs as being very important to the war effort. They don't see that their work may help save the lives of perhaps hundreds of American boys.

At Johns-Manville, nearly 100 per-cent of all work is war work or for essential civilian needs. So nearly 100 percent of everybody's job is a war job.

Some are undramatic and unglamorous—but must we have spotlights and martial music? Our boys over there will die in mudholes, or at sea, without spotlights and blaring bands.

So let us think twice before we take a day off to loaf or play—or before we waste money which we might otherwise put into war bonds.

Let us recall again the words of Lincoln at Gettysburg:

"It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us . . ."

J-M FAMILY ALBUM

They Mean Business—John Gigliotti (left) has just pledged 50 per cent of his pay for War Bonds and Mike Kulina (extreme right) signed for 30 per cent. Both are J-M workers at Manville, N. J. They're shown with Stanley Reynolds, plant chairman of Bond Sales. John has two children in active service and Mike's three brothers are in uniform.

Girl Cost Clerks

For the first time in J-M history, girl cost clerks are making their bow in J-M factories.

Completing a special two-months course, the first contingent of 22 graduates has been assigned to service units in various plants.

They'll assemble cost data for use in the central cost department of the company at GHQ.

Press Likes Talk Made by J-M Head

Careful resumé of editorial comment inspired by J-M's President Lewis H. Brown's recent talk before The American Economic Association at Washington shows that his observations struck a popular note.

His theme dealt with the role of private enterprise in post-war years and the chief executive of the Johns-Manville organization stirred an audience that included many notables with this conclusion:

"We must rebuild America. We must not destroy the system that has made America great. Instead we must use incentives to stimulate private enterprise into channels beneficial to the good of all . . . Cooperation, not conflict, must guide government, business, labor and agriculture in their service to our people . . ."

Editorial opinion favorably echoed that view and news columns were liberally devoted to Mr. Brown's talk. An excellent index to editorial reaction appears in the Cleveland Plain Dealer (Ohio) which says at the end of a half column comment: "In the light of events of the last decade the point made by Mr. Brown is well taken. Public and private enterprise cannot prosper in competition nor can the objective of full employment thus be realized."

HIGH SCHOOL: Classes In Forestry To Be Held

Forestry classes to prepare boys from 15 to 17 years of age for summer forestry service will be held at Sequoia High School one night each week between Apr. 15 and June 1, Supt. A. C. Argo announced this week.

Field trips will be planned in the course, which is to be given under the auspices of the state and county forestry departments, with Ronald Anderson and Bert Werder conducting the classes.

VICTORY CORPS

Enrollment in the student victory corps at Sequoia now totals 348 or about 20 per cent of the student body, according to James W. Thornton, faculty advisor of the group.

Enlistments by divisions are general, 191; air service, 26; sea service, 20; land, 37; production, 15, and community, 59.

About 80 per cent of the students are qualified for membership in the corps, according to Thornton, but are unaware that they have to do no extra work to belong. The corps, which recognizes student war work, is trying to obtain educational films for each division, he said.

KING NEPTUNE

King Neptune and his aquatic court will have appropriate hats when they preside over traditional trans-equatorial ceremonies aboard an American convoy ship—hats being made by Lawrence Tompsett's commercial art classes at Sequoia High School. Carol Steinstra has been in charge of the project, which was carried out at the request of the Red Cross.

Plant Output Reaches New High

Production in Johns-Manville factories almost all of it for war or essential civilian needs, was the highest in the company's history during 1942, according to the annual report to stockholders just released by Pres. Lewis H. Brown.

Information received here by Mgr. E. S. Hurrell of the local Johns-Manville plant reveals that total output of the company's 17 plants and mines, as measured by sales, was $108,021,383. This was 16 per cent higher than in 1941 and 75 per cent higher than in 1940.

Wages and salaries for the year amounted to $36,913,347. An increase of 23 per cent over $30,061,565 paid in 1941. Even though total employment of the company at the end of the year was about the same as it was the year before this increase in payroll, the report points out, was "partly due to a rise in wage rates and to the cost of overtime which in 1942 was $1,217,422, compared to $721,650 in 1941.

Dividends to stockholders in 1942 amounted to $2,087,500. This was $768,750 less than the amount paid in 1941.

Earnings of the company in 1942 were equivalent to 5 cents on each dollar of total income. They were $5,570,192. A drop of $396,953 from the year before when they amounted to $5,967,145 and were equal to 6 cents of each dollar of income. The corporation's total taxes in 1942 after post war refunds of excess profits taxes were $16,704,633, an increase of $4,338,359 as compared to 1941. The report disclosed that the total tax cost was thus equivalent to $19.65 per share of common stock and to more than $1,093 per employe.

"Since the company had been operating at rated capacity in more departments throughout 1941, the higher production FMR 1942 was accomplished almost wholly through the greater efficiency, zeal and effort of the entire organization," Mr. Brown's report says.

"Johns-Manville production in 1942 was predominately for war or essential civilian needs," he pointed out. "Vast quantities of insulations and refactories have been required for shipbuilding and for new war industries. Johns-Manville packings and gaskets are needed for the operations of almost every type of war machine. Building products have been turned out in record quantities for all kinds of military structures, new war plants and defense housing; and diatohaceous earth (celite) products are widely used in camouflage paints and in filtering processes in the chemical and food industries. These are only a few of the many Johns-Manville products that have gone to war."

BELMONT: Civic Group Plans Drive To Dissolve Fire District Commission

BELMONT—Following the dissolution of the Belmont Sanitary District at a special election last week, the Belmont Chamber of Commerce Tuesday fired its opening gun in a new campaign —one to dissolve the Belmont Fire District commission in favor of city management of fire protection facilities.

First step in the campaign was the appointment of David Horn as head of a committee of his own chosing, to conduct a survey of the developed districts adjacent to the city limits which might wish annexation to the City of Belmont in case of the fire district dissolution.

The developed areas referred to at last night's meeting of the chamber are, mainly, those lying between Old County Rd. and Bayshore Hwy.

Mrs. Laura Roeder, president of the chamber and head of the Belmont Hospitality House commitee, outlined the estimated cost of operating the house in new quarters, when acquired, setting $100 a month as the figure which would cover all costs, leaving a small margin for emergency expenses.

The chamber also voted a $10 donation to the Red Cross and instructed the secretary to write to Pacific Greyhound Lines requesting that a bus stop for southbound commuters be established at Middle Rd. and El Camino Real, adjacent to the parking area used by most of the commuters.

Judge Sentences Reynolds to Jail

Edwin M. Reynolds, 32, butcher convicted of killing his wife at their Woodside home Oct. 10, was admitted to probation for five years by Judge A. R. Cotton in superior court Monday on condition that Reynolds spend nine months in jail. Reynolds was given a two-day stay of execution.

Reynolds was convicted of manslaughter Jan. 20 by a jury of nine women and three men who recommended leniency.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis, who prosecuted, urged the court to deny probation because of the seriousness of the offense and the manner in which Mrs. Reynolds, 27, mother of four children, met her death. She died of internal injuries inflicted by her husband.

Probation Officer Francis Robinson recommended probation conditioned on a jail term. Judge Cotton said he did not feel he would be acting leniently if he sent Reynolds to prison.

Two Jailed On Draft Charges

Two men were jailed here in compliance with recent selective service orders requiring all draft registrants to carry registration and classification cards.

Nick H. Korff, 31, 400 Terrace Way, San Mateo, was released at after an FBI investigation disclosed that his draft registration was in order. Lester N. Stillwell, 21, itinerant driller from Seminole, Okla., was being held for further FBI investigation.

Korff was arrested at 3:40 a.m. Monday by Officer Frank Palmieri at Millbrae on a speeding charge. Palmieri filed the additional charges of resisting an officer and being intoxicated on a public highway and booked Korff at the county jail. Meanwhile he referred Korff's draft registration to FBI.

Stillwell was arrested by the California Highway Patrol at Brisbane Sunday. FBI is checking with Oklahoma authorities. Stillwell admitted he has not been in contact with his draft board since August.

Crackers Make Fine Snacks

Whatever you may hear, for or against between-meal snacks . . . or late-at-night ice-box raiding, the great old custom of "fixing your own" goes merrily on. And why not!

It's fun with a big, red family-sized package of oven-fresh Snow Flake Crackers to start with . . . and the whole kitchen plus your imagination to play with . . . and it's no end of satisfaction to come up with combinations like these.

For instance, when you can spare the egg whites (and there's always demand for the yolks) try this:

CRANBERRY ALASKA

2 egg whites, stiffly whipped.
¼ cup sugar.
Stiff cranberry sauce or jelly, canned or home-made.
Snow Flake Crackers.

Add the sugar gradually to the egg whites to make a meringue. On oven-fresh Snow Flake Crackers place a teaspoon or a slice of cranberry sauce. Completely cover with the meringue. Bake in a 300° oven until meringue is light brown. (About 10 minutes.) serve at once.

Then there's the favorite old "night-cap" snack . . . Snow Flakes spread with peanut butter and topped with jelly. Another good one is to place a thin slice of onion on a Snow Flake and top it with a thin slice of cheese . . . good, too.

Remember the one that's made of baked beans, peanut butter and chopped sweet pickles? That's perfect for a Snow Flake "sandwich" and here's how it's made:

BEAN AND PEANUT SPREAD

1 cup baked beans, well drained, mashed.
½ cup peanut butter.
¼ cup evaporated milk.
Salt and pepper to taste.
½ cup finely cut sweet pickles.

Mix all the ingredients together until smooth enough to spread and pile thickly on Snow Flake crackers; top with additional crackers.

Speaking of pickles . . . what do you do with the juice off the jar of sweet pickles when the pickles are used? Here's a grand way to use it. Slice some boiled beets into a jar, heat the pickle liquid and pour over the beets. If there isn't quite enough to cover add a little diluted vinegar (⅔vinegar, ⅓ water). It's nice to drop a hard-cooked egg or two into the juice too! After two or three days, use the beet slices along with some slices of celery root and a few of the highly colored pickled egg slices for a most unusual salad. Serve with Snow Flakes, of course.

Have you ever noticed how crisp, oven-frehs Snow Flake Crackers lend themselves to cheese, meat, fish or vegetable spreads? Try them with well-drained cottage cheese into which you have folded a quantity of chopped chives and parsley. Or try them spread with a mixture of cream cheese seasoned with a little Worcestershire sauce. But a snack is not a snack . . . it's still just plain "groceries" . . . without a package of Snow Flakes to give them the right foundation!

Eastman Traffic Proposal Would Eliminate Signals On S.M. County Highways

Recommendations of Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, for limitation of traffic signals and stop signs would remove virtually all such devices from San Mateo County, it was pointed out Wednesday by Mrs. Bessie B. Hayes, executive secretary of the San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

Most seriously affected would be Redwood City which operates five traffic signals on El Camino Real. Chief of Police C. L. Collins, ponited out that the signals are timed to permit continuous driving at 25 miles an hour, the state speed limit for that sector.

"If drivers obey the law and start and stop their cars with reasonable care, there will be little loss of rubber at our signals," Collins declared. "The signals are necessary to protect the lives of pedestrians, including school children, and motorists."

Eastman yesterday demanded drastic revision of signals and stop signs to conform to war speeds, and proposed that signals be eliminated where traffic flows at less than 1000 cars per hour. He would remove stop signs in all cases where warnings would be sufficient.

Mrs. Hayes said the recommendations would come before the traffic commission at its meeting Feb. 18, and she anticipated a protest. The Peninsula Council of War Transportation Administrators of communities between South San Francisco and Palo Alto, led by Blair Feddes of Burlingame, will probably study the problem at its meeting in Redwood City Mar. 4, Mrs. Hayes said.

While Capt. E. F. Cassell, California Highway Patrol, would make no comment on the Eastman proposal, he pointed out that virtually every traffic signal in the county would be knocked out. The only signal operating on Bayshore Hwy. is at South San Francisco, but there are signals at Menlo Park, Redwood City, San Carlos, Belmont, San Mateo, Burlingame, Broadway and Daly City on El Camino Real.

In Redwood City the Citizens Traffic Committee is making a survey of stop signs preparatory to recommending elimination of those found unessential.

E. H. Cosgriff, Burlingame, chairman of the county traffic commission, told Mrs. Hayes today that he did not believe Eastman's recommendations would apply to San Mateo County because the traffic volume is too light.

A thousand men in various sections of the country declare soft drinks are among the five items they want most in these times, a recent survey shows.

Sullivan Addresses Baptist Fellowship

San Mateo County Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan Monday night told members of the Baptist Fellowship at a dinner meeting at the First Baptist Church of the place of Christianity in post war plans.

Sullivan said "we must be sure we don't lose our heritage, and we must be sure we have God in our post-war plans." He cited principles of America's forefathers which he said must be lived up to.

Devotionals were led by C. M. Armstrong.

Pres. Ted M. Armstrong appointed Everett Carlson, D. F. Gatchel and Elmer Klassen on a program committee.

False Alarm Doubly False

It seldom happens, but it did Monday.

A fire alarm signal was pulled accidentally at box No. 10 on Heller St. at 9:30 a.m. Monday--and the alarm came in from box No. 51, across town at El Camino this morning.

Members of the Redwood City Fire Dept. explained that an inspector from an insurance company was examining a fire alarm box at the S&W Fine Foods plant on Heller St. and the alarm was set off. It is a rare occurrence for the alarm to come from another box, they said. One truck answered the false alarm —at El Camino Real and Whipple Ave.

It was the first fire alarm the local fire department has received since Jan. 17, when firemen were called to extinguish a floor furnace fire at 1207 Hopkins Ave.

Stanford Engineer In Washington

MENLO PARK—From Washington, D. C., comes word that John B. Canning is now on leave of absence as professor of economics at Stanford University to serve as an economic adviser on war food supplies in the Agricultural Marketing Administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Canning have closed their house on Sandhill Rd and are living in Washington, where their youngest son, Tom Norman, Theta Delta Chi at Stanford, visited them recently. He is in the naval reserve and expects to graduate from the Stanford School of Engineering in June.

Mrs. Canning has a position in the Office of the Custodian of Alien Property in the nation's capital.

Millbrae Opposes Housing Project

MILLBRAE—Millbrae residents were on record today as being opposed to location of the public housing project for 700 families on the Mills Estate adjoining Millbrae, following a protest meeting of more than 250 citizens of the community held at the Chadbourne School.

Telegrams will go to War Production Board officials, Congressman John Z. (Jack) Anderson, Sens. Sheridan Downey and Hiram Johnson and to top housing authority executives in Washington, D. C., from the Millbrae Taxpayers' Assn. urging that the project be moved from the contemplated location.

OPA Answers Processed Food Ration Questions

The following is another in the series of questions and answers concerning the rationing of processed foods prepared by the Office of Price Administration:

Q. My family consists of my husband, our two children, and myself. What is my family's allowance of canned foods when rationing begins?

A. 20 cans; five per person, excluding those containing less than eight ounces.

Q. If I have more cans than that, will the extra cans have to be turned in when rationing begins?

A. No, but one blue eight-point stamp will be taken out of Ration Book Two for each can beyond the allowable five.

Q. Do I have to count all the canned foods in my home?

A. Count all the cans, bottles and jars that contain eight ounces or more. Home-canned foods are not included and there are certain other exceptions.

Q. Exactly which foods are to be reported?

A. Include all the following: Commercially canned (tin or glass) fruits (including spiced fruits), and vegetables, canned fruit and vegetable juices, all canned soups, chili sauce and catsup.

Q. Will stamps be deducted for canned foods which are part of an "emergency shelf" to be used only in case of an air-raid or other disaster?

A. Yes. All cans of food to be rationed and weighing eight ounces or more must be included in the count.

Q. How and when will these extra cans be reported?

They will be reported to local rationing registrars when War Ration Book Two is distributed, on a form called the "consumer declaration."

Q. Where will I get the form on which to report my extra stock of canned foods?

A. Whatch for it to appear in your newspaper sometime after Feb. 15. Clip it out and fill in the facts on Feb. 21. Registration for War Ration Book Two begins on Feb. 22 and you will have time by bringing a completed form with you.

Q. Will each member of the family fill out one of these forms?

A. No. Only one form will be used for the entire family. The form has a space for writing in the names of all members of the family unit.

Q. Do I include my housekeeper in this list of names? She lives with us and eats all her meals in our home.

No. List only the members of the family. Your housekeeper must fill out a separate declaration form.

Q. What other information will I be asked to supply on this consumer declaration?

A. The number of pounds of coffee the family had on hand on Nov. 28, 1942, less one pound for each person whose age is given as 14 or over on Ration Book One.

'Sweater Girl Bandits' Back in Court Again

Much subdued Mary Kieffer, 19, center, chews her fingernails as she confers with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Betty Kieffer, 22, second of the two-girl team of San Francisco "sweater girl bandits," and assistant public defender Stephen M. Mrs. Kieffer has recovered from a gunshot wound suffered when she scuffled with Rose Maier, who surprised the girls after they entered the home of Miss Maier's brother.

SCRAP: Brass, Copper Will Be Admission Price

Hal Honore, Fox Sequoia Theater manager, today promised to open the theater doors Saturday at 10 a. m. to all who bring sounding brass and tinkling cymbals—of brass or copper—to be donated to the motion picture industry's national copper-brass salvage compaign.

The theater is donating its properties, film, the operators and other employes for the special copper matinee, Honore explained. A similar matinee will be staged at the Redwood Theater Feb. 20. The copper and brass, collected in bins in the theater lobbies, will be sold and proceeds will go to the Red Cross Hospitality Room.

As an added attraction, Honore states, prizes will be given to the 10 top collectors of the valuable war metals. The prizes, gathered under direction of Mrs. Ruth Honore, chairman of the copper-brass campaign, were donated by Hallett's Market, Olla Tienda, R & R Service Station, Hearne's Department Store, Gray Thorning Lumber Co., Mission Carpet House, Reinhardt the Jeweler, Mitchell's Bootery, Sequoia Men's Shop and Perry Feed and Fuel.

Householders with copper and brass contributions too bulky to be carried to the theaters may avail themselves of Red Cross Motor Corps services by calling RC 335, Honore advised.

State Tax Expert To Visit Here

A state income tax examiner will be at the county court house Feb. 19 and 20 for the convenience of those required to file state income tax returns, Thomas F. Feeney, area income tax supervisor, announced today.

"The matter of filing income tax returns should be given immediate attention in order to avoid penalty and interest charges for late filing," Feeney said.

Law requires that every single person whose net income amounted to $1000 last year and married couples living together whose net income amounted to $2500 file a return. In either case, a return is required if the gross income amounted to $5000, regardless of net income.

KIWANIS: Charles H. Ward Relates His Experiences As Vendor at Post Office

Charles H. Ward, blind vendor in the Redwood City post office, told Kiwanians yesterday noon how it feels to be sightless after years of normal activity.

Ward, who was introduced by Pastmaster Robert E. O'Connell, is a veteran of World War I and came to Redwood City in 1922. He was a carpenter for many years and then went into business, but the depression caused a nervous breakdown which resulted in total blindness in 1933. When the Department of the Interior ruled that the blind could operate stands in public buildings, Ward applied for a sales set-up in the local post office and has been there since.

"Those who have enjoyed sight find it tremendously hard to become adjusted to blindness," he told the club members, "but determination to keep going in spite of the handicap provides the best incentive towards learning how to live in a world of darkness."

Ward told of his experiences in getting adjusted to eating, walking and working without sight. The other senses are quickened, he said, especially the "sixth sense" which enables him to "feel" an object several feet before coming to it, which helps him to walk at a moderate pace without running into doors, trees, posts, etc.

In his stand at the post office Ward has learned to recognize men by their voices, but not women. "Every man's voice is different," he declared, "but women all sound alike." However, he has found that he can spot women customers by their walk and their perfume, and he often amazes them by calling their names before they reach his stand.

The club welcomed Father Cornelius Kennedy of San Francisco, the only honorary member of the local Kiwanis, as a guest, and also applauded the return of Charles G. Lambert, who has been ill for the past two months.

OCD Asks S.F. Group To Aid Lunch Projects

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—James C. He said "a real crisis in child nutrition" was threatened.

YMCA Jamboree Continues

There are three more rounds to go in the YMCA Basketball Jamboree League, James Batchelor, YMCA secretary, announced today. With two rounds already gone, three teams in the seventh and eighth grade section are tied for first place with 1.000 average: Sharks, Wildcats and Thunderbolts. The list will shrink by at least one team this Saturday, as the Wildcats tackle the Thunderbolts in one of the feature games.

In the fifth and sixth grade section, the Spitfires are leading with 1.000 and the Airacobras are in second place with .500.

The jamboree ends Saturday, Feb. 20, for the small teams, and one week later for the larger teams. Approximately 60 boys have been attending each Saturday. Ramon and Harold Dimick of the Sequoia High School coaching staff give instruction to the elementary school boys.

Skilled Workers Asked To Stick With Jobs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Skilled workers in defense industries were asked today to remain on their jobs even though they anticipate early induction into the army. C. W. Eliason, industrial expert of the maritime commission, said draft-age persons leaving work in such anticipation were slowing construction projects.

At any given moment 600 British naval vessels are at sea.

VICTORY: Club Helps War Effort

The Write-a-Fighter Defense-for-Victory Club, group of junior Redwood City citizens active in the war effort under sponsorship of Mrs. Elen Nordstrand, 400 Myrtle St., announced that it has turned over $10.55 to the March of Dimes. The sum was realized from the house-to-house sale of groceries.

Mrs. Nordstrand also reported that the club has collected 700 pieces of clothing and 75 pairs of shoes for Russian War Relief, and realized $3 from the sale of a collection of salvage material for China relief.

The club has pledges of more than $1000 for its approaching war bond sale, she said. Redwood City merchants have donated prizes which will be awarded to the club members most active in the campaign.

Studies of animal bones near the Tigris have indicated that the earliest natives of Iraq ate pork, mutton and beef as well as game and fish.

Planning Group Takes Action

Redwood City Planning Commission this week acted to ban unsightly commercial signs from buildings in the city, to tighten up city subdivision specifications, and to revise the street numbering system on Hopkins and Brewster Aves. and Rogers St.

Larry Brian, secretary to the commission, said the new subdivision requirements are based on a study made by the American Society of Civil Engineers. A committee led by City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy was instructed to prepare a new subdivision ordinance. Another ordinance proposed by the commission would provide for abatement of unsightly advertising signs.

The commission recommended to the city council that the names of East Hopkins and East Brewster Aves. be changed to Hopkins and Brewster, and that Rogers St. be changed to Whipple Ave. A continuous street numbering system for each street, starting with 1000 at El Camino Real, increasing in a southwesterly direction and decreasing in the northeasterly direction, was also recommended.

Bear Gulch Water Co. Cuts Garden Rates

War garden owners in the area served by the Bear Gulch Water Co. will have the benefits of a reduced water rate for irrigation this Summer, Ralph Elsman, president of the California Water Service Co., said this week. The company serves a large part of Southeast San Mateo County.

To qualify a war gardener must have a minimum of 200 square feet planted to vegetables and make formal application to the company.

JOINT MEETING: Pueschel Addresses Service Clubs

Ralph H. Pueschel, 22, who walked with a cane and who leaned heavily on his chair to favor his injured back as he addressed a joint meeting of the Redwood City Exchange and Commuters' Clubs Tuesday, gave his listeners brief glimpses of navy life in a PBY patrol bomber in the Aleutians.

"I was just one of many who fought and flew together to get the little fellows out of the islands," said Redwood City's first disabled war veteran of World War II.

Pueschel, whose back was broken in a routine flight when he fell on a partition in a plane, spent months in a Seattle hospital.

"They treated me very well there," he said.

Under the wraps of strict navy censorship, Pueschel limited his remarks in the main to answering questions, the answers coming from recently published articles on the Aleutian war to which Pueschel added a few of his own experiences.

The speaker was introduced by William B. Curran.

Co-chairmen for the joint session were Elmer K. Ross of Commuter's Club and Lloyd O'Donnell of Exchange. Dr. Rollo LaBerge spoke on the history and purposes of the Exchange Club, followed by Gene (Joe Caboose) Hoffman who listed the purposes of the Commuters' Club. Entertainment included songs by Fred Jaeger, Bert Conroy, accompanied by William Dobbyn, Jack Welch and K. B. Towne. Accordion solos were presented by Rudolph Grana.

Whales are the largest animals known to have lived on earth, exceeding in size the prehistoric dinosaurs.

The cloth in four "zoot" suits would make five victory suits.

Speakers at Toastmasters' Club Monday night were John Brand, "Army and Navy 'E'"; Eugene Hoffman, "Frances Heeley—Reporter"; Frederic Gibbs, "Post-War Economics"; William Henderson, "A Word for the British," and Louis Dematteis, "What Are We Fighting For?"

Five Minutes earlier for your health's sake

Did you ever stop to think how much our efficiency depends on breakfast? From a physiological standpoint, our mental and physical efficiency gets under way at the breakfast table. In these speedy days, however, this morning meal seems to be becoming a lost custom. A cup of coffee and a sliver of toast eaten on the run make up the breakfast menu of a majority of people. Such a kind of morning start lops off a good portion of our efficiency and takes its toll in many other ways, too. It is bad enough in normal times, but now that each of us is shouldering more responsibility, slighting this all-important morning meal is personal sabotage.

If cutting down on breakfast is a question of time, and it usually is, then set the alarm for a little earlier than usual and take time for a nourishing meal. Much of the preparation can be done the night before such as having table set, the batter with the exception of melted shortening mixed for hot cakes, waffles, or muffins, or having the biscuits waiting in the refrigerator.

PATTERN FOR BREAKFAST—If your breakfast pattern has been upset by the rationing program, remember that this meal can still be a well-balanced one. Fruit, cereal, bread in some form and that one cup of coffee supply energy, vitamins, minerals, calories, and that grand satisfied feeling.

FRUITS—Whole fruits such as sliced oranges or baked apples are more filling and have more lasting qualities than fruit juices. Unstrained juices have the same advantage over strained juices. Vary the fruit in some way each day, and don't have too many repeaters. For example, serve apples baked, as a sauce, or fried.

CEREALS—There's a kind for every taste. Vary them from time to time for interest, and alternate cooked cereals with ready-to-serve ones. Molasses, honey, corn syrup, maple-flavored syrup and fruits and fruit sauces add a pleasant change to cereals, and help the sugar bowl too.

BREAKFAST BREAD — Toast is the morning standby, but here, variety is welcome also. Serve toast plain, as French toast, cinnamon toast, or toasted jelly sandwiches. Enriched bread gives extra vitamins that we all can use. Hot breads, hot cakes, waffles, and hot rolls are hearty and are a bit more filling than toast.

Why and How to Starch Cottons

Cotton shirts, blouses, children's clothes, tableware and so many other things are usually better off with a bit of starch because it replaces that new, fresh finish, and clothes stay clean much longer. Starched things shed dust and dirt, not only protecting the surface, but protecting the fabric as well.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS — There are many kinds of starches on the market, each with its own directions. Follow them and measure accurately both the water and starch for best, professional-looking results.

HOW TO STARCH — After the last rinse, wring articles out, shake them to remove folds, turn garments inside out, and immerse them in the starch water, lifting them up and down so that the starch penetrates the fabric evenly. If stiffer collars and cuffs are desired, gather them together and dip in a heavier starch solution. Wring moderately.

Hang to dry thoroughly or roll up while slightly damp to be ironed within a short time.

When ready to iron, have articles slightly and uniformly damp, and the iron hot. This keeps the iron from sticking. And unless there's embroidery or lace patterns to be brought out, iron them on the right side for that professional finish.
